Expanding Aquobex moves into new HQ

Following a significant period of expansion, Aquobex has moved into new headquarters based at the Harwell Campus, a leading science, innovation, technology and business campus, located just south of Oxford.

The 7000sqft facility includes the company's core management team as well as manufacturing and research. The Harwell office will work in tandem with Aquobex's test facility based at BRE Watford.

The move also sees the addition of five new team members with a further two students from ESPA (European Graduate Scheme) due to join later in the year.

Managing Director John Alexander said: "Harwell campus houses some of the most innovative science businesses in the world. We are delighted to be here and looking forward to being a part of this thriving community".
