

Press Release
November 30th 2015

Fläkt Woods showcases Woods range in new brochure

Leading ventilation manufacturer Fläkt Woods has launched a new Woods range distribution catalogue, showcasing the latest product offering from the brand.

The new catalogue gives our customers quick and easy access to information on our range, including fan performance curves, technical data, drawings, 3D wiring and much more.

Included in the new range is the revolutionary JMv aerofoil axial fan, which can save end users up to 24 per cent on annual running costs, and is a highly efficient solution for the commercial kitchen, catering and hospitality sector. The catalogue also presents a wide selection of high pressure axial fans, inline fans, centrifugal box fans, fire dampers and other technical duct products.

Dan Luesley, Woods distribution manager, comments: "The Woods brand, formerly Woods of Colchester, is one of the most recognised and respected names the industry.

"Since the company was founded back in 1909, we have developed a number of British engineered innovations to meet the ever-changing demands of the market, including manufactured products from our well established facility in Colchester. We felt it was the right time to bring together our extensive range of products within a new Woods catalogue, providing a one-stop-shop for almost any commercial or industrial application.

 "All of our solutions have been subjected to a rigorous testing regime to guarantee high performance, top quality and to ensure they meet all UK legislation and standards.

The Woods range is an integral part of the Fläkt Woods' offering – a company with over 100 years of experience and expertise in the non-residential sector, and all products are available from a network of Woods partners across the UK.

Fläkt Woods develops, manufactures and distributes ventilation and air climate products, as well as system solutions for commercial and industrial applications.

Download the Woods range distribution catalogue and find out where to purchase the products here: <http://www.flaktwoods.co.uk/woods>

To request a paper copy, please email marketing.uk@flaktwoods.com

Ends