An Engagement to Celebrate for Flexseal and Frazer

Builders' merchant Frazer, specialists in civils and utility supplies, kicked off 2015 by recognising excellent service in the year just passed at their annual award ceremony. This year, their Supplier Engagement Award was granted to the delighted team at leading UK coupling manufacturer Flexseal.

"We've greatly appreciated the Flexseal team's initiative and involvement at all levels within our organisation," commented Martin Casey, Business Director of Frazer. "Their interaction with our branch managers is especially noticeable, helping our team to manage the sale of their products effectively and, in turn, enabling us to offer our own customers great service."

Flexseal's Managing Director Lee Pashley was at the event to receive the award. "The whole team at Flexseal is thrilled to have been recognised for the service we offer. Working well for and with our customers is fundamental to the way we operate and an award like this demonstrates to us that our merchant customers appreciate the attention that we strive to offer to them," stated Lee.
