GEZE Window Systems Guide for Ventilation and Safety

GEZE UK, the UK subsidiary of GEZE GmbH, a leading manufacturer of door and window control systems, has introduced the Overview of GEZE Window Systems brochure that offers a complete overview of the GEZE window technology range, which includes everything from manual drive systems for natural ventilation to complete solutions for smoke and heat ventilation.

Advice and guidance on system solutions

The brochure offers advice and guidance on selecting the most suitable system and how GEZE UK can provide tailored solutions. In addition, it explains the benefits of natural ventilation and indoor climate control, and what a SHEV (smoke and heat exhaust ventilation) system is. Ensuring the right solution for a project increases the safety and comfort of those using the building.

Extensive product range

With a comprehensive overview of all GEZE's products in the window technology range and an easy-to-use table for product comparisons outlining their applications, functions, and installation options the brochure is an invaluable tool for everyone from designers and specifiers, through to fabricators and installers in the window ventilation industry.

The brochure is available digitally by visiting the company's website or for a printed or digital copy to be emailed, contact info.uk@geze.com.
