The Garden Trellis Co creates bespoke joinery for classic patio garden

The Garden Trellis Company created a range of garden structures for a project to bring elegance with practicality to a classic patio garden in Berkshire.

The clients first approached The Garden Trellis Company after seeing inspirational garden project images from the company's website gallery. They had a good idea of the design look they wanted to achieve for their garden and the type of products that they wanted to include, so after discussing their ideas and providing them with a provisional estimate for the design, build and installation of the joinery, The Garden Trellis Company arranged a site visit to assess the site and take dimensions.

As with other bespoke garden joinery projects, the company produced a detailed CAD drawing for the proposed designs for the client to approve and adjust if needed to make sure they were happy to proceed. With the garden design agreed, the client then reviewed the extensive range of colour options for painted joinery, taking the opportunity to view The Garden Trellis Company's free colour samples. From this the client selected a lighter two tone scheme combining Greenwich Green for the fence work with Manhattan Grey for the garden structures.

The finished project featured solid avenue trellis topped panels painted in Greenwich Green, along with some bespoke gates as well as a storage shed, custom seating arbour and a log store all painted in Manhattan Grey and each finished with a cedar shingle roof, keeping the structures in line with the design of the house itself.

The varied products are not only attractive, making such a visual impact on the garden design, but also make this a practical and enjoyable living space.
