Groundtrax The UK's leading ground protection supplier

Groundtrax® is recognized as the UK's leading specialist supplier of ground protection and reinforcement systems, catering to many of the nation's largest companies and organizations. They provide a comprehensive range of high-quality products suitable for all applications, from light-duty pedestrian areas to heavy-duty HGV roadways.

Their offerings are designed to meet both temporary and permanent needs for events and construction projects nationwide.

The CellPave® range from Groundtrax® includes CellPave® 40, an economical conventional cellular paver, CellPave® GP and AP, innovative no-dig systems, and their flagship product, CellPave® HD. The CellPave® HD is a heavy-duty truck grade cellular paver, manufactured in the UK from 100% recycled material.

Groundtrax® also supplies products from reputable companies such as Terram, Tensar, Wrekin, TCS, and others. Additionally, they offer ancillary products like Geotextiles, Geocells, and Geogrids at competitive prices.

Groundtrax® prides itself on ensuring that all their products are made in Europe, preferably in the UK, using sustainable and environmentally friendly materials. Their product ranges are particularly suitable for integration into SUDS-compliant schemes and other environmentally sensitive projects. Committed to offering exceptional value, Groundtrax® has earned an excellent reputation for providing prompt responses and speedy deliveries from their extensive stock. They position themselves as a single source for all ground protection or reinforcement projects.
