

Press Release
March 25th 2013

Heald Matador Winner of the Highly Commended Category at Security Innovation Awards

Heald Ltd has been recognised with the Highly Commended award at the ADS Annual Security Innovation Awards. Presented at the Security & Policing Exhibition Dinner by James Brokenshire, Minister for Crime and Security, it was given for the Matador sliding bollard system. The only product of its type to win an award, the Matador was well received as a new and innovative security solution.

The unique design of the Matador has been proven to stop vehicular attack and allows safe pedestrian access. As a surface mount solution, the Matador can be fitted on a temporary or permanent basis. It is quick and easy to install.

Crash tested to PAS68 standard, the Matador achieved zero penetration and zero dispersion. It is truly formidable defence against hostile vehicle attack.

The awards recognise innovation at its best in the UK security industry, are judged by a combination of Home Office, Industry and ADS experts and are presented at the annual Security & Policing Exhibition Dinner. The awards are run in collaboration with the Security & Policing exhibition.

Heald will be showcasing the Matador at Counter Terror Expo, April 24-25 2013 Stand B65. If you would like to attend Counter Terror Expo, you can get free visitor passes from www.counterterrorexpo.com

To find out more about the Matador, please visit Heald's website at www.heald.uk.com

Ends

© Heald Ltd 2010 PATENT APPLICATION NUMBER: GB1214486.1 & PCT/GB2012/000621