Heald to exhibit at IFSEC International

Access control specialist Heald is set to continue its successful run of exhibitions by taking part in the IFSEC International Commercial and Government Security trade exhibition this month. Heald will form part of the High Security Village on stand F1950 at the exhibition at Excel in London from 17th - 19th June.

The company, a founder member of the PSSA, has already had stands at this year's Home Office Security and Policing Event in March and the Counter Terror Expo in April.

Heald's friendly, knowledgeable staff will be on hand throughout IFSEC International to discuss the company's award-winning product range. The high security barriers, road blockers and counter terror measures include the world's only automated surface mount sliding bollard system the HT1-Matador, the HT1-Raptor shallow mount rising bollard and a revolutionary new remote control and monitoring system, the Hydra.

Visitors to IFSEC International are invited to call at stand F1950 and chat to representatives to find out more. Full information can also be found on the website www.heald.uk.com or by giving the sales team a call on 01964 535858 or sending an email to sales@heald.uk.com.
