Howarth Timber Trade Day returns

More than 70 of the UK's leading suppliers travelled to Leeds United's Elland Road for another successful Howarth Timber and Building Supplies Trade Day.

It was a chance for industry experts to showcase the latest products and offer never-to-be-repeated deals.

As well as product demonstrations and deals, the trade day on Thursday, November 24th featured a series of seminars taking place throughout the day as industry experts offer their unique perspectives on how the building sector is developing in 2016.

There were also a number of competitions and giveaways. The first 100 attendees were due to be treated to a free breakfast, whilst Howarth Timber was also giving away 250 pairs of tickets for Leeds United's home tie against Aston Villa on December 3rd to those who spent more than £200+VAT.

Howarth Timber managing director Nicholas Howarth commented: "The Howarth Trade Day Bonanza is about bringing customers together with the beating heart of the building industry, and celebrating the fantastic work being done by suppliers, product designers, merchants and tradespeople.

"The 2015 event created a wonderful atmosphere of co-operation and collaboration, and the sharing of expertise in all directions was great to see and be a part of.

"We are very proud of Howarth's long history and our place in the building industry, and the Trade Day Bonanza gives us the chance to share everything we love about the industry with the most important people in the business – the customers."
