Kemper System announces new national sales manager

Liquid resin based waterproofing and surfacing specialist Kemper System is pleased to announce that from the 1st January 2021, Mark Morrison will take on the role of National Sales Manager, overseeing the sales team throughout the UK.

In order to support Mark (pictured) and his team, Kevin Killen will move from his current technical role into a permanent sales role, predominantly looking after the Channel Islands and Northern Ireland. He will also look at attracting new customers throughout the UK.

The company wishes Mark and Kevin the best of luck in their new roles and look forward to working closely with existing and new customer throughout 2021.
