Latest Neff Induction Hobs at Kent Blaxill

Kent Blaxill is now stocking sleek induction hobs from Neff and will be holding a free Neff cookery demonstration at its Colchester showroom on Saturday, April 2.

This new generation of induction hobs offers greater cooking flexibility. Using an enlarged single zone you can heat a pan of any size once positioned within the area. The induction hob achieves maximum flexibility and consistent heat.

The induction coils work independently or together to provide the best possible results and better control of your cooking.

This new generation of intelligent hobs is extremely energy efficient and offers savings on your electricity bills – you heat only the base of the pan – so no wasted heat and maximum efficiency.

Cleaning couldn't be easier. The sleek smooth top means a quick wipe with a cloth and it's done. And because spills won't get burnt onto the surface it's wonderfully easy to keep looking good.

Innovative features such as 'Point & Twist' and 'automatic pan recognition' provide further safety and efficiency.

The smooth, uncluttered look of these hobs completely complement today's modern kitchen. If you want style and efficiency then this is the hob for you.

Kent Blaxill is offering a Berndes Induction Saucepan set free with any Neff induction hob bought before 29 April 2011. And for any kitchen bought before 29 April 2011, worth over £8,000 including appliances, there will be a free Neff hob (up to £600 value).

The Neff cookery demonstration is between 10am and 3.30pm and places can be booked by telephoning 01206 216021
