More Inclusivity with Soft Shower Bed from Kingkraft

Designers and specifiers of internal school buildings can now deliver a more inclusive changing facility. While a changing bed with a rigid surface may be suitable for many individuals, a shower bed with soft surfaces may be required by others, therefore the new Ropox Changing and Shower Bed available from Kingkraft offers a choice of surfaces in one unit.

The slats are easily removed so that cleaning the bed between users can be done effectively and quickly. This is particularly useful for schools and 'Changing Places' facilities where there will be several users.

The standard features which Ropox has always provided include a more powerful motor and frame giving guaranteed lifting of 150kg; height adjustment of 300-1000mm gives a comfortable transfer and working height for the carer; and the fold-away mechanism that provides a changing facility where space is at a premium.
