Inspiration at the Heart of Komfort's Newly Refurbished Showroom

Komfort, the designer and manufacturer of commercial partitioning, doors, movable walls and storagewall, has revamped its London, Bonhill Street showroom to display the latest products on trend to the London interiors market. The 2,500sq ft facility has seen substantial investment, to provide architects, designers, contractors and developers with an inspirational space showcasing Komfort's wide product portfolio.

Products are displayed in 'real life' office set-ups, using minimal manifestation and a neutral colour scheme. As such, these set-ups provide a feel for how different configurations and materials contribute to a space design. For designers, the use of this blank canvas is an ideal way to present different options and ideas to their clients. Sets also provide an insight into more technical design aspects such as acoustic performance, for example.

In addition, the showroom will have an area dedicated to new products exhibiting product mock-ups and construction details for new product development and project specific builds. It will also play host to CPD seminars and events.

"The new showroom looks fantastic," said Andrew Thompson, Showroom Manager. "It reflects the latest trends and showcases our newest innovations including our new range of Polar deflection heads to provide maximum impact for those looking for inspiration."

"Having the products set up in 'real-life' situations allows visitors to get a better understanding of what a certain product actually looks like in situ. In turn, this gives visitors even more confidence in the product and how it will achieve their design vision and technical specification."

The showroom, which is open from 8.30am until 5pm, Monday to Friday, displays a collection of integrated and complementary interior space products for office, commercial and education environments. Products include glazed, solid, acoustic, demountable and fire rated partitions, glass and veneered doors, storagewall, structural glass staircase and movable walls. In addition, the showroom also features a range of washroom cubicles.
