Lindapter Appoints National Sales Manager for USA and Canada

Lindapter, the inventor of the Girder Clamp and Hollo-Bolt® steel connection systems, has announced the appointment of Charlie Humphreys as National Sales Manager for USA and Canada, effective immediately.

Charlie is responsible for the specification sales and support operations throughout the company's North American Division and has already confirmed his commitment to expand the national sales force by accelerating Lindapter's USA recruitment programme. His remit will ensure that engineers, contractors and authorised distributors receive the highest level of service, from technical support and free connection design, to product availability and installation guidance.

Perfectly suited to the position of heading up the sales activities for Lindapter USA, Charlie brings a wealth of experience, most recently as VP/GM of Global UNISTRUT® Sales (Tyco International). Prior to his 15 years with Tyco, Charlie was President/CEO of T.J. Cope, manufacturing and supplying electrical cable ladder and support systems worldwide.

Charlie is enthusiastic about his new role, commenting: "Lindapter is a powerful brand with a quality product, popular with both specifiers and end users worldwide. I look forward to working closely with my colleagues, distribution partners and engineering companies to bring Lindapter's cost saving steel connections to projects across the USA and Canada."

Lindapter's National Sales Manager Charlie Humphreys can be contacted by telephone on 001 610-590-2160 or e-mail: chumphreys@lindapter.com.
