Moores Furniture Group Expand Retail Team

Moores Furniture Group has doubled the size of its retail sales team to meet increasing demand for its Four Seasons and Shades brands and support the company's ambitious growth plans.

The leading manufacturer of kitchen and bathroom furniture says the move will provide greater coverage for its Four Seasons kitchens and Shades bathrooms brands across the UK and a stronger presence within retailers.

The new retail team will be headed up by Retail Business Manager Scot Greenwood and reporting to Moores' Sales and Marketing Director, Kevin Tolson.

Kevin commented: "It is an extremely exciting time for Moores. The new additions and expansion to our retail sales team is specifically designed to drive sales of Four Seasons and Shades through independent retailers. For the long standing members of the sales team, the new additions also reflect an ongoing investment in people and products."

Shades recently launched a brand new range of modular furniture, which has been well received by the retail sector. The sales team is excited about the new products and the response they have had when presenting it to existing and potential customers.
