New Appointments at Mumford & Wood

Mumford & Wood, the premier timber window and door brand in the Performance Window Group (PWG), announces two new promotions in the company's senior sales team.

Steve Purcell, who has played a pivotal role in the exceptional growth of the brand, moves from National Sales Manager to Regional Sales Director and Tom Barfield, currently Regional Sales Manager, also takes on the joint role of Regional Sales Director.

In a role-and-responsibilities reshuffle across the entire sales, marketing and production teams, Steve Purcell will be supported by senior salesmen Ben Greenwood, along with Matt Addison and David Donovan, while Tom Barfield will add Tim Kirk and Simon Barker to his team. More appointments will be made in the very near future.

Purcell (above right) has worked in the window joinery industry for over 30 years and has an exceptional background working for volume brands. He has been with Mumford & Wood for 14 years.

Barfield (above left), who joined the company 13 years ago, has brought a wealth of product experience as well as great interface with customers and their requirements. He says: "We sell the best product on the market and there is huge emphasis on research and development at Mumford & Wood. This continues to cement our enviable position and reputation in the market."
