Planet Partitioning announces partnership with d line

Leading designer and manufacturer of glazed partitions and doors Planet Partitioning has announced a partnership with d line, one of Europe's most prestigious manufacturers of architectural ironmongery.

Working with Eisenware, the UK exclusive distributors of d line, Planet will be offering d line as standard on all of its doors. The move illustrates the company's commitment to quality and performance throughout its product range.

Planet has long been regarded as one of the UK's leading producers of glazed partitions and doors, with attention to detail and quality of manufacturing being cornerstones of the company's ethos. Appreciating that one of the most used elements of a door is the hardware, the company has made the decision to provide a high-quality range of lever and pull handles as standard.

D Line offers a 20-year warranty for its handles and lever lock casing that is specially designed for Planet IsoPro doors. This ensures that specifiers, designers, contractors and clients are ensured of the highest quality throughout the product and that it is designed to operate in even the most high-trafficked workplace environments.

To ensure flexibility and freedom of choice, architects and designers will still be able to specify their own choice of hardware, with d line being the standard specification.

Commenting on the announcement, Planet Sales Director Genghis Akay said: "We are delighted to be partnering with d line. They have a reputation of high quality and elegant design which fits perfectly with the approach that Planet has. By committing to d line as standard across all of our doors, we are sending a clear message that when you specify a Planet product you can be assured of high quality across every single component."
