RENSON Welcomes New UK Director

Ventilation and sun protection products specialist RENSON® NV has appointed Mike Reeves as UK Director. His responsibilities include overall operations, including managing the UK manufacturing facilities, as well as sales of the complete range of RENSON® products. The innovative collections include window vents, louvres, continuous louvre systems, hinges, aluminium sun protection elements, screens and terrace coverings.

Mike previously worked for Colt International and has many years of experience in both sales and project management in the areas of weather louvres, sun shading products, architectural solutions, ventilation and smoke control.

In his role as UK Director, Mike is charged with growing RENSON® in the UK and strengthening the company's market position. He takes responsibility for all the UK sales and operations for the extensive range of products for a healthy and comfortable indoor environment. RENSON® also has manufacturing operations in the UK which Mike is managing.

Paul Renson, CEO of RENSON® welcomed the appointment. He said: "Based on his experience and qualifications, Mike Reeves is the right man for this important position."

Mike said of his new role: "I look forward to supporting the growth of RENSON® in the UK. I have found an enthusiastic team, which is the basis for a successful co-operation."
