Servaclean proud to help build up another head of steam

Servaclean is always happy when projects involve local Yorkshire businesses, so the team was especially proud to be asked to make its mark on The Head of Steam's latest bar.

The venue, located on Park Row in the centre of Leeds, was previously occupied by Lloyds Bank, but a million-pound redevelopment effort has seen it totally transformed into one of the city's most attractive spots.

Central to any venue's appeal and success is its bar, and the Servaclean team ensured that The Head of Steam's bar servery is the best it can be, using their unique BARFrame stainless steel structure and range of quality fitments.

The bar features 19 keg lines housing a wide and rotating range of beers, sourced both locally and from across the globe. Those pressed for time can take their tippie of choice away with them to enjoy at home, thanks to the venue's canning machine.

Mick Hill, Head of Property & Acquisitions at Cameron's Brewery, is pleased with the result and said: "The Servaclean bar system is a key component of all our future Head of Steam openings as we drive the brand UK-wide."

Servaclean offers a free BARPlan planning and design service.
