The Flood Company makes news with WAR valve

The Flood Company, a Yorkshire based family business, has been featured in Flooding Matters magazine with its revolutionary new Water and Rodent Non-Return Valve.

Flooding Matters is a free subscription publication that supports and serves the flooding industry and aims to provide intelligent insight to readers.

The WAR Non Return Valve is the world's first universal-fit Non Return Valve. Designed and manufactured in Yorkshire, it offers protection from flooding as well as rodents, insects and noxious fumes and will suit all properties, many of which have not been suitable for standard non return valves currently available.
