Tensar Featured in UKTI Major Event Expertise Publication

UK Trade & Investment has launched a new directory entitled "Springboard to Success – UK Major Event Expertise" to promote the UK's world-class expertise in delivering the infrastructure, specialist technology, services and skills to make the world's major events possible. Tensar, a world-leader in soil reinforcement and ground stabilisation, is proud to be included in the directory.

The aim of the directory is to provide potential UK supplier information to future host nations and fulfils part of the UKTI's international building programme to help secure an economic legacy through the UK's status as Host Country of the 2010 Olympic and Paralympic Games.

The directory will have an international audience, consisting of:

- Future host and bidding cities and governments of major events
- Organising committees of major events
- Private sector – supply chain

Details of Tensar's international involvement in major infrastructure work relating to major sporting events, including the associated transportation systems, can be found on the Springboard to Success website: <http://www.allscenes.com/springboardtosuccess/tensar.tsp>
