

For release: September, 2011

Titon sponsors the HBF Technical Conference – 9 November, 2011

Leading ventilation and window hardware expert Titon is pleased to announce its sponsorship of this year's Home Builders Federation (HBF) Technical Conference. The conference takes place on 9 November 2011 at Austin Court, Birmingham and the theme is 'The shape of things to come' with a number of skilled speakers and Conference Chair, Dave Mitchell, Technical Director, HBF.

Presentations and discussions at this year's conference will reflect on proposed consultations and guidelines, including the anticipated amends to Part L of the Building Regulations, due in December, which will define the final step towards Zero Carbon in 2016. The group of speakers will offer their thoughts and guidance on how this will affect house builders and other stakeholders.

Tyson Anderson, Sales and Marketing Manager, said: "We are pleased to sponsor the HBF Technical conference for the second year running and look forward to hearing more from our colleagues about the challenges the industry is facing, so we can support our customers with highly efficient products and comprehensive advice as required. We will also have Titon staff available to discuss ventilation issues, particularly in terms of integrating ventilation systems within future house designs."

Titon is a market leader for domestic ventilation and fittings for windows and doors, with over 30 years-experience in supplying countries all over the world. It invests extensively in manufacturing,

News Release

research and development, keeping the company at the forefront of new technology and ensuring the delivery of innovative products at competitive prices.

Ends

