Jacuzzi UK Launches Morphosis Omega

Jacuzzi release sophisticated new model for the Morphosis Collection.

The Morphosis Omega (120 x 100 x 225cm) is a truly exciting addition to the Morphosis Collection by Jacuzzi UK. Designed by Design House Pininfarina, this hydromassage steam cabin oozes style and sophistication.

The Morphosis Omega enclosure has side panel, back panel and tray, available in black or white and is constructed from tempered safety glass treated with Jacuzzi Crystal; a glass protection that allows water to form into droplets and run off the glass without leaving a residue. The state of the art seat forms a sculptural line of teak that appears to drape itself within the enclosure.

The Morphosis Omega features steam and aromatherapy functions, raindrop shower head, massage jets with vaporized, pulsating and continuous functions, a skin touch cascade that is built into the seat, and a hand shower.

Practical features of the enclosure include an electronic de-scaling system, a Blackstone shelf that is integrated into the side of the seat, overhead lighting, a two piece duckboard, thermostatic shower mixer, shower diverter and limescale prevention membranes.

The electronic display controls the steam bath, alarm, lighting, time and temperature.

The low profile shower tray is available in black or white Blackstone. The enclosure is available left or right handed.

The Jacuzzi Designer Range encompasses whirlpool baths, shower enclosures, steam cabins, bathroom suites, brassware, furniture, and accessories and is sold exclusively through specialist bathroom retailers throughout the UK.
